Some of the drivers were an insigne which consisted of two crossed flaggoles with flags on the upper ends and spoked wheels on the lower ends (      Comments, Components of the 136th 0ds in Tank SP Regt of the Third Shock Army are also believed to be at Letaling Neath, Components of the 136th 0ds in Tank SP Regt of the Third Shock Army are also believed to be stationed that a despite the fact that a AM and artillery units of the Third Shock Army are also believed to be stationed there accounts for the relatively heavy occupation, despite the fact that a AM and artillery units of the Third Shock Army are also believed to be stationed there accounts for the relatively heavy occupation, despite the fact that stable components of the units there were away from the installation at the time covered by the report. Detail		Approved For Release 2006 CON FROENTIA 18008100500012-8 German (Saviet Lone) 25X1A REPORT NO.
DATE OF CONTENT DATE OF CONTEN	TOPIC.
DATE OF CONTENT DATE OF CONTEN	PRESENTANTOMORNO MATRICISTO (MATRICIS	10/66
DATE OPTAINED	EVALUATIO
DATE OPTAINED	DATE OF C	CONTENT
EFERENCES 25X1X Between 1 and 25 "sy 1951, the "lite "asserne at Burg (ii 53/T 61) was occupied by 50 to 60 officers and about 100 troops. Soldiers observed wore red-bordered black epaulates, including some with tank and some with artillery insignia, Throughout the entire period of observation, only groups of up to 10 men were engaged in training. The barracks buildings were about 30 percent lighted at nightfall. 25X1C Some of the drivers were an insigne which consisted of two crossed flagpoles with Tlags on the upper ends and spoked wheels on the lower ands (** ******************************
Some of the drivers were an insigne which consisted of two crossed flagpoles with Tlags on the upper ends and spoked wheels on the lover ends (* *******************************
Between h and 25 "ey 1951, the "lite "asserme at Burg (H 53/Y 61) was occupied by 50 to 60 officers and about h00 troops. Soldiers observed wore red-bordered black epaulets, including some with tank and some with artillery insignia. Throughout the entire period of observation, only groups of up to 10 men were engaged in training. The barracks buildings were about 30 percent lighted at nightfall. 20XIC Some of the drivers wore an insigns which consided of two crossed (Lagpoles with flags on the upper ends and spoked wheels on the lower ends (
Between h and 25 "ay 1951, the "lite "asserme at Burg (ii 53/I 61) was occupied by 50 to 60 officers and about h00 troops. Soldiers observed wore red-bordered black equalets, including some with tank and some with artillery insignia. Throughout the entire period of observation, only groups of up to 10 men were engaged in training. The barracks buildings were about 30 percent lighted at nightfall. 25X1C Some of the drivers wore an insigns which consisted of two crossed flagpoles with flags on the upper ends and spoked wheels on the lower ends (
Between i and 25 may 1951, the alte haserne at Burg (ii 53/Y 61) was occupied by 50 to 60 officers and about 100 troops. Soldiers observed wore red-bordered black epaulets, including some with tank and some with artillery insignia. Throughout the entire period of observation, only groups of up to 10 men were engaged in training. The barracks buildings were about 30 percent lighted at nightfall. 23AIC Some of the drivers were an insigne which consisted of two crossed flagpoles with flags on the upper ends and spoked wheels on the lower ends (KEMAKKS.
Between i and 25 may 1951, the alte haserne at Burg (ii 53/Y 61) was occupied by 50 to 60 officers and about 100 troops. Soldiers observed wore red-bordered black epaulets, including some with tank and some with artillery insignia. Throughout the entire period of observation, only groups of up to 10 men were engaged in training. The barracks buildings were about 30 percent lighted at nightfall. 23AIC Some of the drivers were an insigne which consisted of two crossed flagpoles with flags on the upper ends and spoked wheels on the lower ends (K. GERMAN PROPERTY AND Detween 1 and 25 "sy 1951, the "lite "asserne at Burg (H 53/Y 61) was occupied by 50 to 60 officers and about hot troops. Soldiers observed wore red-bordered black epaulats, including some with tank and some with artillery insignia. Throughout the entire period of observation, only groups of up to 10 men were engaged in training. The barracks buildings were about 30 percent lighted at nightfall. Some of the drivers were an insigne which consisted of two crossed flagpoles with flags on the upper ends end spoked wheels on the lower ends (er (dat gad hefensamskus er rinns sännet die neuem Between 1, and 25 "ay 1951, the "lite "asseme at Burg (H 53/Y 61) was occupied by 50 to 60 officers and about 100 troops. Soldiers observed wore red-bordered black spaulets, including some with tank and some with artillery insignia. Throughout the entire period of observation, only groups of up to 10 men were engaged in training. The barracks buildings were about 30 percent lighted at nightfall. Some of the drivers were an insigne which consisted of two crossed (lagpoles with flags on the upper ends and spoked wheels on the lower ends (1 - Ing the representative techniques
Some of the drivers were an insigne which consisted of two crossed (lagpoles with flags on the upper ends and spoked wheels on the lower ends (25X1C Some of the drivers were an insigne which consisted of two crossed (lagpoles with flags on the upper ends and spoked wheels on the lower ends (25X1C  Comment, Components of the 136th dds Hv Tank SP Regt of the Third Shock Army from the Alte Kaserne are believed to be at lettling Heath, An effect that a ALA and artillery units of the Third Shock Army ere also believed to be stationed there accounts for the relatively heavy occupation, despite the fact that sizable components of the units there were away from the installation at the time covered by the report. Document No. No Change in Class. Document No. 25X1C Document No. Document No. 25X1C Document No. Document No. 25X1C		25X1X
Some of the drivers were an insigne which consisted of two crossed (Lagpoles with flags on the upper ends and spoked wheels on the lower ends (). 25X1C Some of the drivers were an insigne which consisted of two crossed (Lagpoles with flags on the upper ends and spoked wheels on the lower ends (). 25X1A  Comment, Components of the 136th Gds Hv Tank SP Regt of the Third Shock Army from the Alte Kaserne are believed to be at Lettling Heath, The fact that a ALA and artillery units of the Third Shock Army ere also believed to be stationed there accounts for the relatively heavy occupation, despite the fact that sizable components of the units there were away from the installation at the time covered by the report. Document No. No Change in Class. Declassified Class, Change In Class. Declassified Class, Change In Class, 25X1C
25X1A * Comment. Components of the 136th Gds Hv Tank SP Regt of the Third Shock Army from the Alte Kaserne are believed to be at Letzling Heath. The fact that a AAA and artillery units of the Third Shock Army are also believed to be stationed there accounts for the relatively heavy occupation, despite the fact that sizable components of the units there were away from the installation at the time covered by the report. Of the vehicle Units of the Third Shock Army and to the 136th Gds Hv Tank SP Regt. Document No. No Change In Class. Declassified Class. Changed T. Declassified Class. Changed T.
Comment. Components of the 136th Gds Hv Tank SP Regt of the Third Shock Army from the Alte Kaserne are believed to be at Letzling Heath. . The fact that a AAA and artillery units of the Third Shock Army are also believed to be stationed there accounts for the relatively heavy occupation, despite the fact that sizable components of the units there were away from the installation at the time covered by the report. . Host 25X1 of the vehicle belong to headquarters units of the Third Shock Army and to the 136th Gds Hv Tank SP Regt. 25X1C	25Y1C	with flags on the upper ends and spoked wheels on the lower ends ().
also believed to be stationed there accounts for the relatively heavy occupation, despite the fact that sizable components of the units there were away from the installation at the time covered by the report. a lost25X1 of the vehicle belong to headquarters units of the Third Shock Army and to the 130th Gds Hv Tank SP Regt. 25X1C	25X1C	with flags on the upper ends and spoked wheels on the lower ends (). it was not the motor transport insigns. *
Document No. Document No. Declassified Class. Changed T. Declassified Cl		with flags on the upper ends and spoked wheels on the lower ends (). it was not the motor transport insigns. * 25X1A Comment. Components of the 136th Gds Hv Tank SP Regt of the Third Shock Army from the Alte Kaserne are believed to be at Letzling Heath.
Declassified Class, Changed T	H	with flags on the upper ends and spoked wheels on the lower ends (). it was not the motor transport insigns. * 25X1A Comment. Components of the 136th Gds Hv Tank SP Regt of the Third Shock Army from the Alte Kaserne are believed to be at Letzling Heath. The fact that a AAA and artillery units of the Third Shock Army are also believed to be stationed there accounts for the relatively heavy occupation, despite the fact that sizable components of the units there were away from the installation at the time covered by the report. Itost ^{25X1} / of the vehicle
Declassified Class, Changed T	H	with flags on the upper ends and spoked wheels on the lower ends (). it was not the motor transport insigns. * 25X1A Comment. Components of the 136th Gds Nv Tank SP Regt of the Third Shock Army from the Alte Kaserne are believed to be at Letzling Heath. The fact that a AAA and artillery units of the Third Shock Army are also believed to be stationed there accounts for the relatively heavy occupation, despite the fact that sizable components of the units there were away from the installation at the time covered by the report. Ilost25X1/ of the vehicle units of the Third Shock Army and to the 136th Gds Nv Tank SP Regt.
Declassified Class, Changed T	H	with flags on the upper ends and spoked wheels on the lower ends (). it was not the motor transport insigns. * 25X1A Comment. Components of the 136th Gds Nv Tank SP Regt of the Third Shock Army from the Alte Kaserne are believed to be at Letzling Heath. The fact that a AAA and artillery units of the Third Shock Army are also believed to be stationed there accounts for the relatively heavy occupation, despite the fact that sizable components of the units there were away from the installation at the time covered by the report. Ilost25X1/ of the vehicle units of the Third Shock Army and to the 136th Gds Nv Tank SP Regt.
Declassified Class, Changed T	¥	with flags on the upper ends and spoked wheels on the lower ends (). it was not the motor transport insigns. * 25X1A Comment. Components of the 136th Gds Nv Tank SP Regt of the Third Shock Army from the Alte Kaserne are believed to be at Letzling Heath. The fact that a AAA and artillery units of the Third Shock Army are also believed to be stationed there accounts for the relatively heavy occupation, despite the fact that sizable components of the units there were away from the installation at the time covered by the report. Ilost25X1/ of the vehicle units of the Third Shock Army and to the 136th Gds Nv Tank SP Regt.
Declassified Class, Changed T	#	with flags on the upper ends and spoked wheels on the lower ends (). it was not the motor transport insigns. * 25X1A Comment. Components of the 136th Gds Nv Tank SP Regt of the Third Shock Army from the Alte Kaserne are believed to be at Letzling Heath. The fact that a AAA and artillery units of the Third Shock Army are also believed to be stationed there accounts for the relatively heavy occupation, despite the fact that sizable components of the units there were away from the installation at the time covered by the report. Ilost25X1/ of the vehicle units of the Third Shock Army and to the 136th Gds Nv Tank SP Regt.
Class. Changed T	#	with flags on the upper ends and spoked wheels on the lower ends (). it was not the motor transport insigne. * 25X1A Comment. Components of the 136th Gds Hv Tank SP Regt of the Third Shock Army from the Alte Kaserne are believed to be at Letzling Heath. The fact that a AAA and artillery units of the Third Shock Army are also believed to be stationed there accounts for the relatively heavy occupation, despite the fact that sizable components of the units there were away from the installation at the time covered by the report. Liost25X1A Of the vehicle units of the Third Shock Army and to the 136th Gds Hv Tank SP Regt. 25X1C
thanged To: Ts s		with flags on the upper ends and spoked wheels on the lower ends (). 25X1A Comment. Components of the 136th Gds Hv Tank SP Regt of the Third Shock Army from the Alte Kaserne are believed to be at Letzling Heath. The fact that a AAA and artillery units of the Third Shock Army are also believed to be stationed there accounts for the relatively heavy occupation, despite the fact that sizable components of the units there were away from the installation at the time covered by the report. Of the vehicle Units of the Third Shock Army and to the 136th Gds Hv Tank SP Regt. 25X1C
AND COLLEGE CONTRACT TO A COLUMN TO A COLU	#	with flags on the upper ends and spoked wheels on the lower ends (). it was not the motor transport insigns.* 25X1A Comment. Components of the 136th Gds Hv Tank SP Regt of the Third Shock Army from the Alte Kaserne are believed to be at Letzling Heath. The fact that a AAA and artillery units of the Third Shock Army are also believed to be stationed there accounts for the relatively heavy occupation, despite the fact that sizable components of the units there were away from the installation at the time covered by the report. Belong to headquarters units of the Third Shock Army and to the 136th Gds Hv Tank SP Regt. Document No. No Change in Class. Declassical